$15.00 members and guests, GST not applicable

We'll give you a peek behind the curtain into their approach for laying the groundwork for a Smart Building. This impressive facility is home to many of the technologies and infrastructure components required to Build, Connect, Power and Protect valuable assets and critical environments. The Edmonton facility houses operations that provide full-service supply chain solutions for diverse customers within the Canadian market. Facility Managers, Project Managers, Architects and Engineers, will benefit from meeting other industry professionals and the Anixter team who can help support these infrastructure solutions with the knowledge and expertise required to build into the success of your projects.

The tour will take approximately 45-60 minutes followed by a short presentation on "Infrastructure as a Platform for Smart Buildings"

The warehouse tour requires steel toes footwear and vests; Anixter has some limited quantities available for guests to use. However, to ensure there are enough for everyone, please advise us if you need them provided by emailing Vicki Hackl at ifma-nac@ifma-nac.org by Tuesday, March 19th.
